NALEDI SUN HOTEL CLEAN AND READY TO BENEFIT THE PEOPLE OF THABA NCHU

The ownership of Naledi Sun in Thaba Nchu has finally been transferred to the Free State Provincial Government by the Department of Rural Development.

Therefore, the department of Public Works & Infrastructure, under the leadership of MEC Dibolelo Mance, as the sole custodian of provincially owned properties, has a mandate to maintain this property as it contributes towards the investment value and revenue potential of the Province.

The use of this property and other earmarked properties, will be geared towards contributing to the economic development of this economically depressed area.

Today, the Departmental housekeeping and maintenance directorates, EPWP participants and ward 29 members of the community under Cllr. Thabo Mogotloane gathered to ensure that the facility is clean and ready for future use and economic development.

“We are grateful that Naledi Sun Hotel goes back to its former glory, it will not only benefit Ward 39 but the whole Thaba Nchu and Free State at large. We will spend our Christmas here like before,” said Cllr. Mogotloane.

The Department of Agriculture also played an essential role by planting trees and flowers contributing to the greening and beautification of the site.

Department plans to utilize internal capacity for condition assessment and EPWP participants to keep it clean. Once operational, the facility will benefit the community by offering a cleaner, safer, and more vibrant environment.
